

Illinois grows more corn than almost any other U.S. state (it ranks #2 in the nation). The farmers in the state produce enough corn each year to fill a train of box cars stretching more than 7,600 miles from here to Hong Kong.

